

Question Prayer Rooms

University Council meeting 15.12.2016

From various international student organizations, we heard that especially Muslim students need prayer rooms close to their study locations. The Harmony building, de Duisenberg building and the UMCG already have such a silence room in which praying and meditation are possible. The University Library, however, is one location at which students tend to spend the entire day. A prayer room there would be of high value. The renovations of the UB are not yet finished. Would it therefore be possible to realize a room for prayers and meditation in the University Library?
